Select Language ▼

Disposable Patient Leggings

Disposable Patient Leggings made of Polycoated/ Laminated non-woven.

- Disposable surgical leggings are provided for covering the upraised legs of a surgical patient. The leggings are made of a single sheet of flexible nonwoven material. To cover the legs and other areas of the patient not directly involved in the procedure during delivery or surgery, these leggings provide a protective shield.
- Use of patient leggings is recommended in surgeries where the patient is placed in a supine position with legs spread and held in an elevated attitude by suitable stirrups.
- Available in Sterilized Single Pack.